Lorraine Devon Wilke

" Somewhere on the Way "

Genre: roots/rock/folk

reviewed by Heather Corcoran

"Somewhere on the Way" is the perfect title for road trip quality this release contains. It's got everything covered, from love to heartbreak to how to move on with your life! Lorraine Devon Wilke's power ballads could land a permanent spot as background music to some of your favorite Lifetime shows. Picture Melissa Etheridge driving a '57 Chevy, stopping to pick up Bonnie Rait and Reba McEntire on the way. Before the trip ends, hitchhikers Lucinda Williams and Sheryl Crow jumped in for a long, girls only trip out to the West coast. Pure enjoyment, Lorraine Devon Wilke's "Somewhere on the Way" should be "somewhere" on your CD changer. It's awesome.

Hit Picks: "Misguided," "Comfort Me," "Richer For Rain"
